Old-Town Anomaly

$825,000

You don't find this in Old-Town Lunenburg every day! On the outside, this handsome residence appears to be a century or more old with its shingle siding & craftsmen detailing. However, this 3000+ sq ft home is just 22 years young and a departure from the typical Old-Town offering featuring a bright & fresh interior, modern systems, & a fully finished basement. The main floor living space has a casual elegance w/ warm neutral wall colours & white trim anchored by natural hardwood flooring throughout. A large living room w/ propane stove adjoins a lovely sunroom at the front of the house...relax and take in the view of Lunenburg's iconic waterfront. A spacious eat-in kitchen adjoins a large formal dining room & a convenient main floor powder room is off the front foyer. Upstairs, the bright & spacious primary bedroom w/ double closets & 4-pc ensuite enjoys a private balcony overlooking the harbour & pretty streetscape. Down the hall are 2 more bedrooms, a large walk-in closet/dressing room & 4-pc family bathroom. But we're not done yet! No 'old house basement' here!...instead, find a completely finished lower level guest suite complete w/ kitchen area & full bath. With its own entry these lower quarters are ideal for extended stays by visiting family or guests, or income potential from either long or short-term rentals. This unique property also includes a single car garage & an interlocking brick parking area where your car will spend most of its time as it won't be needed. In this marvellous location, everything you need is within a few blocks of your doorstep...groceries, post office, banks, and a host of interesting shops, restaurants & cafes. If you've been looking to make the move to Lunenburg, this special property represents an opportunity you won't see again soon in Old-Town, so don't miss out! see full details for this and other fine properties at:
